RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

On December 16, 2020, Kelly Joyce filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she suffered a left shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (“SIRVA”), a defined Table injury, after receiving an influenza (“flu”) vaccine on November 8, 2019. Petition at 1, ¶¶ 4, 38-39. Petitioner further alleges that her SIRVA was caused-in-fact by the flu vaccine she received, that she received the vaccine in the United States, that she suffered the residual effects of her SIRVA for more than six months, and that neither she nor any other party has filed a civil case or received compensation for her SIRVA injury. Id. at ¶¶ 4, 38, 40, 42-44. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

If, upon review, I agree that the identified material fits within this definition, I will redact such material from public access.

Because the vaccine record in this case did not indicate the site of vaccination,³ I issued a fact ruling on December 14, 2021, finding the flu vaccine was most likely administered in Petitioner's left shoulder, as alleged, and that onset of Petitioner's pain occurred within 48 hours of vaccination. ECF No. 26. Thereafter, Respondent filed a Rule 4(c) Report recommending compensation be awarded in this case. Rule 4(c) Report at 1, ECF No. 38. Reserving his right to appeal my fact ruling (id. at 12-13) and based upon my factual findings and the record as it currently stands, Respondent "has concluded that [P]etitioner suffered SIRVA as defined by the Vaccine Injury Table." Id. at 13. Furthermore, he "does not dispute that that [P]etitioner has satisfied all legal prerequisites for compensation under the Act." Id.

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
